Insight School Schedules 21 Information Sessions To Inform Parents and Students about Benefits of Innovative Online Public High School

Los Angeles – April 3, 2008 – Insight School of California-Los Angeles (ISCA-LA) has announced a series of 21 informational sessions scheduled during the last two weeks of April to acquaint prospective parents and students with the online high school’s innovative programs in preparation for Fall 2008 applications.

Insight School of California-Los Angeles is the premier full-time, diploma-granting, online, public high school offered tuition-free for California residents in Los Angeles, Orange, San Bernardino, Ventura and Kern counties. Insight School is educating a broad group of high-school-age youth who, for a variety of reasons, need an alternative to the traditional high school experience. Insight students earn their diploma in a personalized, student-led, teacher-facilitated program where they can complete their studies at their own speed with weekly deadlines and in their own setting using a school-supplied laptop computer.

“We offer a safe, academically rigorous, virtual education taught by highly qualified, California credentialed teachers. Students who are self-motivated and enjoy working independently flourish in our environment,” said ISCA-LA Principal Linda Rosson. “We also provide student forums, online clubs and student activities to augment our online curriculum with opportunities for social interaction. ISCA-LA is a different type of school. Our doors are always open and kids are welcome, day or night!”

As they pursue their high school diploma online, ISCA-LA students build strong ties with their communities as well. For example, Student Day at the L.A. Zoo brought kids together from throughout the region for a field trip to enjoy a tour of the zoo followed by a picnic. During the winter holiday season, students teamed up with Toys for Tots to help sort donations at area Marine armories and played a vital role in matching age appropriate toys to deserving children. ISCA-LA students have also raised and donated hundreds of dollars by participating in various charity walks, including the upcoming MS Walk at the Rose Bowl.

“I love ISCA-LA,” said Harini Kompella, who will graduate with the ISCA-LA class of 2008. “I’ve been accepted at several great universities including UCLA, UC Davis, UC San Diego and California State University at Northridge. I like how our course schedule is structured, so I can be flexible with when I do my homework. It allowed me to take more responsibility for my lifestyle, and I was able to volunteer in my community during the day. This learning environment has truly helped me in achieving my aspirations.”

The upcoming Insight School of California-Los Angeles information sessions will provide valuable information on the Insight Schools approach, including the key benefits of attending an online high school for families and students who are not finding a productive fit with their local brick and mortar school environment. The sessions will also include an online demonstration of a typical classroom session, a review of the robust Insight Schools curriculum, a question and answer period, and application materials. A special highlight at selected sessions will be participation by a current Insight School of California-Los Angeles student from the local community who will share his or her personal experiences.

Pre-registration is not required to attend these Insight School of California-Los Angeles information sessions. For details on Insight School California-Los Angeles, visit www.insightca.net.
